|------------------------------|--|--|----|
| Small Batch | Good things come in small batches. Our house favorites are blended from just a handful of barrels. | Four Roses Small Batch Belle Meade Small Batch Noah's Mill Small Batch | 14 |
| Whiskey 101 | Compare twelve year old bottlings of Bourbon, Scotch, and Irish whiskies to get a sense of general differences in style and flavors. | Elijah Craig 12 Year Glenfiddich 12 Year Tullamore DEW 12 Year | 15 |
| Anywhere but Kentucky | One of the prevailing myths about whiskey is that to be called 'Bourbon' the juice must come from Kentucky. These fine Bourbons beg to differ. | High West American Prairie (UT) Dark Horse Reserve (KS) Hudson Four Grain (NY) | 16 |
| Scotch | These whiskies represent three main regions of Scotch production: the western island of Islay; the Highlands; and the north coast of Speyside. | Laphroaig 10 Year Cask Strength Old Pulteney 12 Year Craigellachie 13 Year | 19 |
| Irish | Three distinct expressions: creamy single pot still; fruity single malt; smoky, peated cask strength. This is why Irish eyes are smiling. | Redbreast 12 Year Knappogue Castle 14 Year Connemara Cask Strength | 21 |
| Rye | Old school rye is trendy right now, so get your selfie stick ready. First, a young rye/wheat blend; next a traditional high-rye (95%); finally one aged at least two years bottled straight from the barrel. | Journeyman Last Feather High West Rendezvous Michter's Barrel Strength | 18 |
| Multigrain | Corn and malted barley might be the prestige crops for whiskey production, but these distilleries are experimenting with non-traditional mashes. | Koval Oat Whiskey Bernheim Wheat Whiskey Still 630 Rally Point Rye | 13 |
| Evolution | A master distiller crafts very different whiskies from a single white dog. The large batch blends and the single barrel all start with the same juice. | Buffalo Trace Mash #1 White Dog Buffalo Trace Eagle Rare 10 Year Single Barrel | 15 |
| Past & Present | Limited. Harper discontinued sales in the States in the '80s, but the brand remained popular in Japan. We happened across some of the original to sip alongside their more recent bottlings. | I.W. Harper c. 1970's I.W. Harper c. 2017 I.W. Harper 15 Year | 18 |
